

Carlos Ramirez a dedicated Physical Therapist Assistant who began his physical therapy journey while serving in the United States Navy. He finished top of his class during his military physical therapy training at Fort Sam Houston and graduated with honors from Concordia University Texas with his Bachelors in Kinesiology.

While in the Navy, other areas he gained experience in were, cardiac care, cardiac rehabilitation, and post operative care. He believes the culmination of his experiences assists him in providing well rounded care.

Carlos was drawn to Lymphwell by the level of quality care and 1:1 time with the patients that was set by Christina Hankins, PT. He felt that joining the Lymphwell family was in line with why he loves physical therapy, it's a space he can provide visible care that leaves the patients happy.
